Right: Father Edward Krason, former Principal returned to celebrate the Eucharist at the 25th Anniversary Mass for the student body.

Right: The Cross is a symbol of our Christianity and it dominates the front of the building.

Below: Bishop D'Arcy dedicated and blessed a tree planted in honor of the top two graduates of each class since the school opened. This was part of the 25th Anniversary celebration.

School Chaplain, Fr. Jim Koons reads the gospel as Jim Meier looks on. Fr. Jim celebrated the Mass for the whole school once each month in addition to every day in the chapel.

COMMUNITY WORSHIP

Celebration takes many forms. Our most meaningful is the way in which we pray together. During our Silver Anniversary Year many extra special events took place. None of these was more important than the liturgies we participated in as a community of Saints. However, not only for extra events is the Eucharist the center of our faith. We have the Mass and experienced many forms of worship during the course of the school year. God comes first at Bishop Dwenger High School.

Music is a very special and important part of the liturgy. The Concert Chorus helped to make the music such an important aspect of our worship. These students give honor to God by using their voices.

Amy Richardson and Mr. Tone show off our new street sign. Now we will always know where it is we go every day to school.

Exchange students are special! Geraldo Alvarez gets a swing out of this year's International Club Hoedown.

Gina Purvis pulled the fire alarm to kick off this year's WOWO Fire Drill. Safety always comes first!

GETTING INVOLVED

What do you do after school? Go home and watch Happy's Place on television would probably be the answer of many people. But many Dwenger students put in a lot of time after school doing something they enjoy. Clubs, cheerleading, yearbook, and band are just a few examples. They are contributing to our school in many ways, but they are having fun in the process. Ever wonder who made all the posters in the gym? Join the pep club. Want to learn about other cultures? If you do, join the international club. Getting involved in an after-school activity really helps one belong to the school. So, become aware of the possibilities, and get involved!

A SILVER CELEBRATION

Above: Performing for the Pre-game and the Half-time of every ball game is not as easy as it may sound. However, the sound of the Bishop Dwenger Marching Band gets better with each season.

Left: Laura Ley, Mandie Christie and Meg Gerdeman prepare to pep up the students at a pep session. At times the crowd was whipped into a frenzy.

Right. The Saints give the high five after scoring another TD against South Side. It was a great homecoming.

Right: Fireworks are big part of the whole of Spirit Week. Everybody gets pumped up and the sparks are known to fly. During half time of the big game fireworks are set off for the crowd.

Below: Let's decorate those doors!!! Each homeroom makes the ultimate in signs and hangs them up on the door. Mrs. Carroll loved her sign so much that she makes everyone notice it.

Right. Homecoming Queen Anne Davis. From all of the ladies in the senior class, Annie was chosen to be the Homecoming Queen for 1987-88. Congrats to Annie.

A FALL FRENZY

"DREAMS" . . . Spirit Week . . . Pep Session . . . Powder Puff Football . . . Bonfire . . . Beating South Side. It happens every fall. Homecoming Week. The 1987 Homecoming was one of the best. For a week the dress code went out the window, the classroom doors were decorated and Chris Macke and Leah Mockenhaupt co chaired all of the events.

Anne Davis was crowned Queen after the court arrived in horse and buggies. The dance was well attended and many alumni attended. Homecoming. What a Great Time!!!!

Sean Creigh is drafting his future. He doesn't seem very interested about it though.

Miss Halter holds these students spellbound. Is it canned goods that is the subject of their discussion? Or is it the subject of food in general that they are so interested in?

CLASSROOM TECHNIQUE

Bill Bunting attempts to expand his knowledge by using the library. One is kind of curious to know what it is he is studying.

How do you feel about math and science? Or are you more interested in English or perhaps art and business? The variety of tastes at Dwenger is sufficiently supplied by the wide variety of classes offered. Every person has different things that they are interested in, so many different fields are covered. Physics, earth science, home economics, many years of art, and various business classes are a few offered in addition to the necessary English and religion. Every taste is suited at Dwenger, and every personality is allowed to develop, even in an academic setting.

A SILVER CELEBRATION

Above: Biology gets tough!!! Mrs. Polhamus dissects those unanswerable questions. Everyone must take Biology at some time in their lives.

Left: Could one of these be a future Loenardo??? Matt Mock, John Carboni, Chris Mason, and Andy Topp attempt their Masterpieces. Don't forget that color balance.

QUESTIONING MINDS

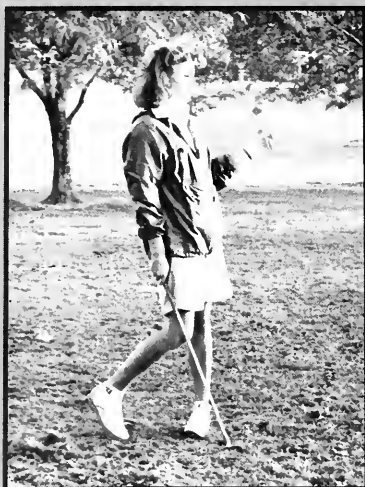

$2 + 2 = 4$. Or does it? There have been many contradictions made to that fact, but it still stands. That is what education should be: a statement followed by arguments and finally a decision. That is how everyone learns not only the facts, but also to be original and not always follow the crowd. Also, a questioning mind is usually the one that absorbs the most information. All those facts that at first seem only useful for playing Trivial Pursuit, are actually what other things are based on. Academics at Dwenger is exactly what it should be — an upward path that doesn't end at graduation. It continues onward all through life.

Michelle Wall leads the Saints to victory once again. Here she is doing her famous balance beam routine. Notice her form.

Mally McArdle watches her shot as it heads for the green. From the turn of her foot you can tell that she expects it to go pretty far.

The girls' cross country team prepares to start the season off right by beating Northside's team. Their relaxed stance bodes well for the rest of the meet.

Nicole Bobay shoots for three over the arms of this Heritage opponent. Will she make it?

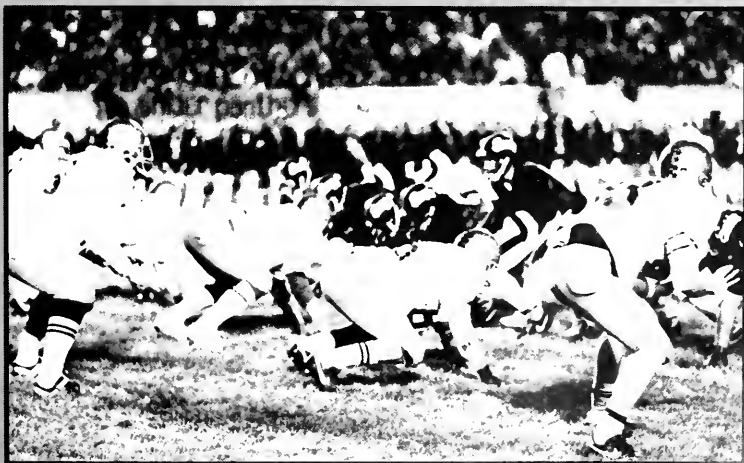

A SILVER CELEBRATION

EXCELLENCE IN SPORTS

Volleyball, soccer, basketball, and football — words that stand for popular pastimes. These names have the power to stimulate some people to jump up and down for joy or band their heads into a wall for despair. And those are just the spectators. The athletes themselves put a lot of dedication into every season they participate in. But the crowd's spirit and dedication to the team can really cause the team to win or lose. So next time you don't feel like going to a game remember what you could mean to the team and think twice.

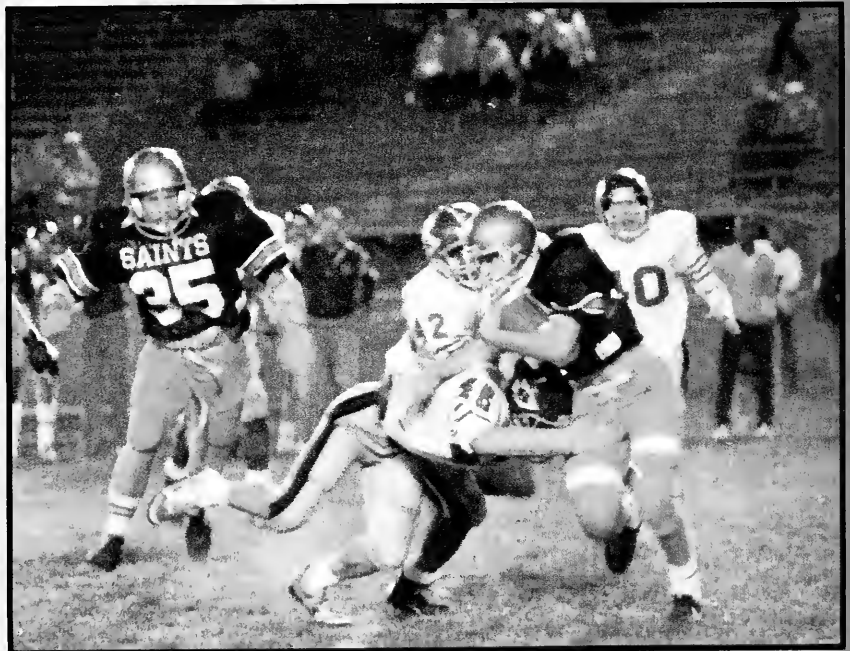

Snider can't even start to break the Saints' defense. Even though it wasn't a home game, hundreds of Dwenger fans came to cheer the team on to victory. It was one of many great wins of this spectacular season.

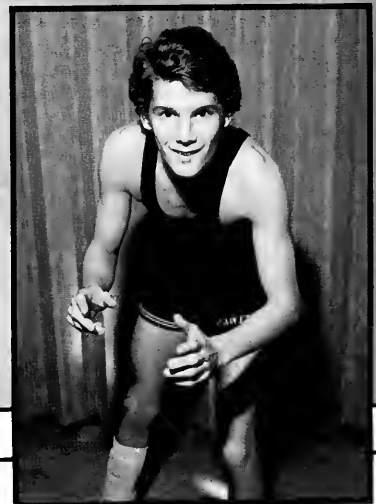

Right: Senior Matt Hullinger did not wear his glasses when he took on his challengers on the mat. He went to the State meet in Indy and represented Dwenger well.

Below Kim Coughlin, Lisa Miller and Anne Davis worked as a well-oiled machine to defeat many volleyball opponents.

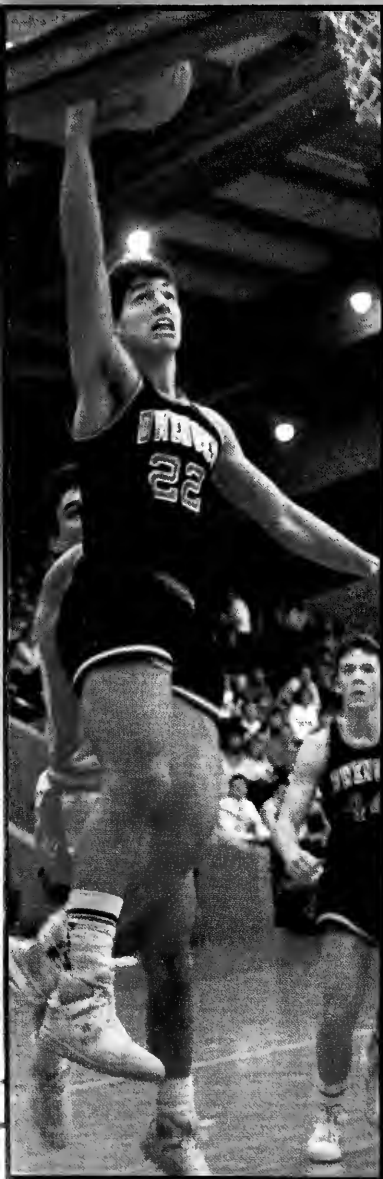

Above: South Side took quite a beating from the Saints. Dave Luawig advances the ball as Matt Fox runs over to help him fight off the Archer tackle.

Right: State Qualifier, Andy Noll had an excellent season. Andy wrestled at the 110 pound class. Coach Tone had a banner year.

THE COMPETITIVE EDGE

At Dwenger, athletics has always been important. We have even been considered a "powerhouse" in Fort Wayne. Our football team was the first ever in Fort Wayne to win the State Championship. The other teams are also extremely competitive. We're very proud of that fact, and this tradition will continue. Many hours of dedication go into every sport. The games or matches or meets are only part of it. Every athlete at Bishop Dwenger High School earns the rewards he or she receives. This attitude is the attitude of winners, and that is what we are — regardless of the score.

PROM 1988 "HELLO, GOODBYE"

It was a special night of "Hello, Goodbye" and the 1988 Prom. The kids looked special after all of their preparation and manicures and hair appointments and tanning salon treatments. The girls were a flurry of spring colors and long dresses. The guys never looked better in their G.Q. tuxes and armed with their best manners. They danced to the music of Kyle Chen. For the first times the dance was held at the Window Garden of the Summit building. It was cozy there, but none-the-less the evening was filled with enchantment. Julie Schreck was queen of the prom. Many pre-prom festivities were dinners and carriage rides.

Prom Court: Shelley Alvarez, Julie Schreck, Anne Davis, Laura Berghoff, Amy Richardson, Leah Mockenhaupt, Alex Brell. Open your eyes, Laura!

The lovely and vivacious Julie Schreck! John is having trouble putting her down, but none-the-less Julie is excited and deserving!

Notice the pride in Steve Patterson's face as he escorts Prom Queen Julie Schreck. She too is radiant! These are the happy times to remember about high school.

Beth Dumas sees the camera! She and date look cozy and comfy! Notice how the reds match?

John Sullivan shed his jacket and is into some serious dancing! Is Matt biting his date's shoulder?

Is that graduate Amy Nolan in a dancing trance? Is she avoiding her date's eyes? Or catching a few ZZZZs?

Christine App looks dreamy as she and John ponder serious thoughts. How lovely they look.

What a fearsome threesome! Anne Algerier, Jenny Curran and Kim Dull look like they are waiting for their dates and a Goooooooooooood time

BACCALAUREATE AND GRADUATION

Bishop D'Arcy as he leaves the Cathedral after the Mass. The bishop gave a meaningful sermon.

The top of the line Michelle Hartman and Joe Romie.

Pete Tippmann receives the Eucharist from Father of Suelzer. The priests from our feeder schools con-celebrated with the Bishop.

Marilyn Ryan reads at the Mass. The Senior class officers did the readings and carried up the gifts.

The Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception

Jamie Parrot receives her National Honor Society stole from Monsignor Lester.

Monsignor Lester and Mr. Schmitt present Warren Schmidt with her award at the banquet.

THE CLASS OF 1988

Posing with their newly received diplomas are Dan Daly, Steve DeWald, Chris St. John and Nick Gram.

It was a very hot day as the graduates assembled in the gym for the ceremony.

Anne Woods adjusts Rob Minniti's cap before the ceremony.

Happy as clams to finally get their diploma are Molly Gray, Kelly Gaughan and Holly Rowllas.

Mr. Gaughan presents Jenny Braun with her diploma.

Chris Homan prepares to depart on the Walk A Thon.

To clean tables is fun. Just ask Angie Murray, John Sullivan, Mat Peters, Todd Hartzog, Tim Burns, Matt Racine and Mike Scudder.

P.J. Rommel wonders what to do with a basketball. He looks good with it though.

Heather Campbell and Robin Faurate indulge in some chips at the park.

What a crew this is learning Spanish. Diana Berich, Amy Turner and Betsy Ellison.

Matt Slater could have had a V-8. Why is he playing cards?

Matt Cotter having recovered from his accident, learns science.

Aren't they clever? No teacher would ever know to look for another book behind one book for another. Brooke Neuhaus, Kara Herald and Pam Watercutter.

It's another dress down day. Angie Marqueling and Dan Neilson look great.

Todd Martin catches up on the news or is it the sports?

Miss Jackson reads to her classes. Isn't that special?

JUNIOR DAY: 1988

Junior Day was a time of friendship and togetherness between the young men and women of the Junior Class. The day begins with the celebration of the Eucharist with the entire school in attendance and with Father Jim celebrating the mass. At that time, the class rings were distributed by sponsors Kathy Klemme and Mark Girgash. After mass, the juniors proceeded to the Heritage House for brunch. The rest of the day was free to be with our friends and relax. To end the day's vacation from school, a dance was held at school and that was a special treat. The Class of '89 enjoyed the best Junior Day ever!

Bishop D'Arcy celebrated the mass and then gave the Juniors a few tips on how to be successful in life. It was a special treat

ACADEMICS

A YEAR DEDICATED TO MARY

FR. JIM URGES SPECIAL DEVOTION TO MARY

Both faculty and students had the opportunity this year to enliven their devotion to the Mother of God. Pope John Paul II asked all Catholics to celebrate a year in honor of Mary (Pentecost 1987 — Assumption 1988). The praying of the rosary each morning at 7:15 a.m. gave both the young people and the adults of our school time set aside to pray at the beginning of the day. October 7th, the Feast of Our Lady of the Rosary, the entire student body received rosaries at an all school assembly and were then led in the recitation of the rosary by Father Edward Hession.

Various all school Masses this year were geared toward our understanding of Mary as a "Woman of Faith". The Solemnity of the Immaculate Conception — the patronal feast of our country and our diocese — was celebrated with an added solemnity as we dedicated our school to the loving protection of Mary. The Spanish classes joined in the celebration of a Mass in Spanish for the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe and the French students honored Mary through prayer and song at a French Mass on the Feast of Our Lady of Lourdes. In the course of the Easter season, the Latin classes participated in the celebration of the Mass in Latin and joined in the singing of gregorian chant hymns in honor of Our Lady. The Marian Year was particularly crowned with beauty on the solemnity of the Annunciation as our new grotto was blessed at the end of the Mass with the entire student body present. May the spirit of this Marian Year — a year so beautifully tied with our silver jubilee celebration — always remain in our hearts!

At the grotto dedication: Jim Radtke; Pat Feeley; Fr. Jim Koons; Mike Feeley; Jeff Randalletta; Pat Fawbush.

During the Spanish Mass, Our Lady of Guadalupe was honored.

The statue of Our Lady in the grotto. The grotto was dedicated out in front of the school after an all Mass in March. The grotto faces Washington Center Road for all to see.

Fr. Hession assists Fr. Koons as he blesses the rosaries that were handed out to the entire student body in October. Fr. Hession was the pastor of St. Charles Parish.

On the First Friday of each month, we had a special Eucharistic Day of Prayer. The Blessed Sacrament was exposed and many students took advantage of the time for private prayer.

Tim Pelkington helps to distribute the rosary beads

Freshman, Nicole Bobay receives a rosary. Father Jim Koons had enough rosaries donated for the entire school. After receiving the rosaries, we all said the rosary together.

DWENGER LEADERSHIP STARTS AT THE TOP THOSE WHO TAKE CARE OF THE BUSINESS

Although one might think of someone in Administration as wearing a three-piece suit and always going to meetings, it simply isn't true. Of course they usually look good, and occasionally attend meetings, but they also do day-to-day things. They sharpen pencils and run out of paper clips as often as anybody does. Just because they have a large title like administration, is no reason to be afraid of them. They have gone through the same high school education we all have, and happened to choose to be a school administrator. Don't hold it against them.

GUIDANCE ANSWERS ALL QUESTIONS

Mrs. Barbara Hall

Mrs. Mary Keller

Mr. Robert Meyer

Whether hidden away in their offices, busy with their computers, or speaking in classrooms, the guidance personnel are always on top of new techniques or changes in education. They keep the school informed tests, schedules, and colleges. One service that the juniors and seniors could not do without is help deciding about their futures. On a one to one basis, our counselors spend the time to discuss with us college majors, requirements for our chosen fields, or how to get a job. From their abundant library of college and job related information, they draw on data that the junior and senior is interested in. This is just one of the many services the guidance department does for us at Dwenger. It would be impossible to list them all.

Mrs. Hall, Director of Guidance takes a shot at guiding Pat McManus and Jerry Bougher. Mrs. Hall sees every senior several times throughout the course of an academic year.

Mrs. Ginny Steger

Mrs. Keller also got to judge the door contest with Mr. Doepker.

THE MEDIA CENTER . . . LIBRARY

IT'S MUCH MORE THAN A PLACE TO STORE BOOKS

I enter a large room where row upon row of books surround me. There are current magazines displayed in the center. Tables, straight chairs and comfortable chairs are scattered around the room. Fiction, encyclopedias, informative books, and newspapers inhabit the shelves. Looking carefully I see some of my favorite books in the fiction section. I pick up Wuthering Heights and continue my observations. An extensive card catalogue and audio-visual area catch my eye. Friendly librarians reign in this the quietest room in the building. I notice all the order and quiet atmosphere as I settle down in a cushioned chair to read my book. This is the Bishop Dwenger library. Many of us only think of it as a place to do research or as somewhere to go to escape from study hall. But it also is a place to relax, use computers, or learn something new. I finish my novel and get up to leave. As I exit the room, I remind myself to return to this relaxing area very soon.

AT THE HUB . . . THE FRONT OFFICE

THE SECRETARIES HELP TO KEEP DWENGER GOING

When you hear the word faculty, what do you think of? "Teachers", say some, and others answer, "Guidance," or "Administration". A group that is often forgotten, but actually very vital to Dwenger, is the office personnel. These are the people who keep the school moving and up-to-date from day to day. Besides always being there to assist students and other faculty, they keep everything in order, from today's bulletins to this year's tuition. Something that many people take advantage of is the fact that the people in the office will give change for a dollar for the pop machine. But beyond that, they do a wide range of things, as one can tell by watching them in action. Answering multitudes of phone calls is another thing they do. They are always busy, and, although sometimes forgotten, they are always necessary.

FACULTY: THOSE WHO EDUCATE

THEY SPEND THEIR TIME PREPARING . . .

Mixed in among the throngs of students changing classes, one can distinguish older, wiser, people. Although seniors will think I am talking about them, it is actually the faculty that I speak of. These are the ones who have chosen to spend their whole life, or at least a few years, in a high school environment. They spend all day preparing, teaching, and recuperating from a thorough teaching plan. Everyone at Bishop/Dwenger is offered an excellent education, and these teachers, administration, office personnel, librarians, and guidance workers make it all possible. They offer the years of experience and education that they possess, and assist anyone who wants to learn in achieving their potential. These people are the Bishop Dwenger serve our thanks. Although as freshman, many teachers seem unapproachable, and some wreak disaster in the freshman hall, they can be made into friends.

EVERYBODY EATS AND THEN IT'S A MESS

OUR KITCHEN AND MAINTENANCE STAFF

Have you ever passed the Faculty Dining Room in the morning and seen the "chefs" of Bishop Dwenger kitchen working on a puzzle? Well, don't be fooled. Maybe in between making taco ole and cookies they occasionally take a rest, but most of the time they are hard at work. Some day when you come to school a little early, check to see if the cooks are in the kitchen. I guarantee that they will be there. Maybe you will even see Mrs. Bierbaum making her famous cookies. Working all morning only to have one's lunches grouped with the typical "school lunch" may not be very rewarding, but many of our chefs have stayed here for years. We here at Dwenger should be very thankful that our meals are prepared with care, mostly from scratch. Especially our cakes and cookies should make us grateful. Thank you, Cooks!

Another group of people who aren't always recognized for their labor is the custodians. The maintenance people at Bishop Dwenger quietly move all over the building cleaning, fixing and straightening. Sometimes they probably feel that they never get thanked for their job, but we do appreciate them. We do notice little touches like when all the chairs in the cafeteria are grouped by color or when the gym floor is newly waxed. Our school gives a good impression only because our maintenance crew does an exceptional job. So next time you pass one of our small group of maintenance men, tell them Hello.

Mr. GENE KARST

Mr. DALE WHITE

RELIGION: THE MAJOR DIFFERENCE

SAINTS LEARN TO LOVE GOD

The one major thing that sets Bishop Dwenger apart from other high schools is our Catholic faith. Besides being evident in our Masses, this is shown mostly in our religion. Whether it's Old Testament freshman year, Church History with Mrs. Cornell junior year, or Catholic lifestyles as a senior, we continue to study all through high school. Through all the hours spent working on Reverence for Life projects, we are conscious of learning new facets of our religion. After four years of breathing in a Catholic atmosphere, most of us are ready to retain that knowledge for at least the next couple of years.

Mrs. Barnes holds most of her class spellbound as Kelly Gaughn falls out of her seat in amazement.

Sister Marilyn talks with Dave Yaggy of religious matters beyond the understanding of Mike Hugos.

Father Jim lectures to Greg Case about what will happen to troublemakers. Did Father Jim have any reason for choosing Greg?

Tina Niederholtmeyer brownnoses a little with Mrs. Malloy. Do you think it works?

Miss Maciejewski tries to ignore these freshmen. It doesn't seem to be working.

Mrs. Cornell gets tight underwear as she notices Tim Burns' friend sitting on the windowsill and touching her desk.

AN INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR

SAINTS LEARN TO SPEAK FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Bonjour, Hola, Guten Tag, Baleté, and welcome to the foreign language department. French, Spanish, German, and Latin scholars are very familiar with these phrases because of our excellent teachers in this department. They make learning a completely different language easier than it would be otherwise. Five years of almost all the languages are offered at Dwenger, and they seem to be doing a good job because some of the Dwenger students even win the opportunity to study in a country where they speak their language. Others test out of college language because they have learned so much.

Mrs. Lede speaks Spanish to Jason Sylvester. He accidentally got in the wrong room this period so it's all Greek to him.

To the right, a French scholar. To the left, someone who contemplates taking Spanish next year.

To Scott Hamrick, German student, 1 minute in Miss Kist's class seems like an hour.

Mrs. Nelson asks Brian Berich if he'd like to teach the class since he is standing.

Mrs. Brown and Steve Simon try to teach Eric Karst how to conjugate all those interesting verbs.

Mrs. Oberstar revives Casey O'Boyle as he begins to doze.

SPEAKING IN OUR NATIVE TONGUE

SAINTS STILL HAVE TO STUDY ENGLISH

English — a language most of us claim to have mastered. But actually one's knowledge of this subject continues to grow as one ages. Dwenger's English department does their best at making us at least intelligible. Speaking, writing, and reading are accomplishments we all learn more or less. Even this article is a product of my education in Dwenger's excellent English program. Besides a thorough grammar class freshman year, literature and even a little history are thrown in later. Rigorous junior and senior classes are excellent fore-runners for college classes. All in all, our English department is one of which we can speak distinctly, intelligibly, and with pride. My English knowledge was enough to at least write these words, but not necessarily enough to spell them correctly. Obviously I need another year of English at Dwenger to teach me how to spell. Right now I have to go do my English Literature homework. I'm glad that I will have the benefit of a good English background. Aren't you?

Mrs. Kuker, shown here trying to give freshmen higher education. Somebody has to try.

Betsy Ellison and Jeff Ciocca seem like they're enjoying Mrs. Loney's lecture. Or are they just brownnosers?

Mr. Tierney enjoys guitar more than Macbeth. Can anyone blame him?

Look at that smile. Did you ever think of modeling, Mrs. Spohn?

Mrs. Carroll helps a student struggle through Asimov.

Bell to bell? Adele Dimarco assures Miss Jackson that she doesn't mind. Does she always smile when she lies?

IT'S HOW YOU PLAY THE GAME

SAINTS BECOME PHYSICALLY FIT IN P.E. CLASS

"Move it, move it, don't lag behind." These words can often be heard from the Physical Education teacher, Mr. Girgash. They are almost always followed by the moans and groans of the ever-so-wonderful freshman class. Gym classes at Dwenger are taken 1 full year opposed to 1 semester freshman year and 1 semester sophomore year as in public schools.

Throughout the year, a variety of sports are covered, such as football, volleyball, basketball, soccer, gymnastics and the always popular square dancing. The technique of each sport is learned by practice and by a written test of rules and a skills test is given.

BUSINESS: THE HIDDEN DEPARTMENT

HIDDEN IN A CORNER IS ANOTHER WORLD

If you're ever wandered by the end of the senior hall by the office and wondered what was going on there, the answer is: business. Hidden away in a little corner of the hall is an accounting room. Next to that is another tiny room is typing, shorthand, notetaking and whatever other business related classes are needed by the office-bound student. A little farther down the hall are two rooms on opposite sides of the corridor. Typing and computers are two other business classes for any interested people. What goes on in these classrooms might be obvious, but beyond the necessary curriculum, there is a lot of sharing and teaching going on.

Anyone who devotes the time at Bishop Dwenger can graduate with a full knowledge of the business arts. Many people take typing and computers and both will be required in the future. The more dedicated take the more advanced classes. Experts say that by the year 1995 90% of the American homes will have a computer in them.

Mr. Johnson tells Mat Buckley that that is a "querty" typewriter. Matt doesn't get it. (Neither does Mrs. Cornell)

Anne Algeier doesn't think that her hands are that short. Mrs. Field tries to explain to hand that you don't need short hands to do shorthand.

Bridget Caffrey lets her finger dance across the keyboard. She's ready for the advanced classes.

Sophomore, Jenny Butler looks like she has to take Vivarin to keep awake to type. Maybe it's just the class, she tries to keep her hands on the home keys.

Mr. Don Ryan tries to teach these scholars how to use the computer. Tina Niederholdmeyer however needs to keep an eye on Mark Newell. Also pictured are Emily Steigmeyer and Amy Gillig.

Steve Dumas entertains the girls as he types. How can one type while he laughs The ladies are Janelle Lassus and Carrie Locke.

FROGS, ATOMS, THEORIES, AND WORMS

BROKEN TEST TUBES ARE A PART OF SCIENCE

Frogs, atoms, theories, worms, flowers, skeletons, and formulas all add up to one thing — science. Wild flower collections and mixing bubbling solutions are things many of us can look back on and laugh. Others of us grimace as we recall the reaction that went haywire. But broken test tubes and weak stomachs as we dissect frogs and fish are just part of the learning. Mistakes often teach valuable lessons. for instance, how would one know what happens when reactions boil over if one never sees it happen? And who discovered that putting cold water in a very hot container was not such a good idea? It was probably a scientist, and he remembered never to do that again. Although many important discoveries were not made by scientists, it was they who have been able to use and reuse that development. And who knows, but maybe one of the present Dwenger students will someday make a monumental scientific discovery? Anything is possible.

SCIENCE 99

SOCIAL STUDIES . . . MIRROR TO THE PAST HISTORY, GOVERNMENT, GEOGRAPHY, ECONOMICS

The Social Studies department plunges into the past as well as taking a look into the present and trying to form ideas of what the future will be like. At Bishop Dwenger, four semesters of history are required. The first required class, U.S. History, is taken during junior year. This class was taught by Mr. Scudder and Mr. Johns. In this course, students follow the history of our country from the Native Americans up to Watergate and the present. Senior year, a semester of Government is required. This was taught by Mr. Ray. One of the many fascinating things learned is how a bill becomes a law. The last required social studies course is Social Issues, which also counts for a credit in religion. There are also many other social studies courses open to students. Freshmen are urged to take World History, taught by the one and only Mr. Koester. As well as learning about Annette Funicello, students also get an in-depth look into the life of Napoleon Bonaparte. Students can also take World Geography. For the students who are looking for a career in business, Economics is offered. With a special thanks to all the social studies teachers, B.D. students have a better understanding of the world in which we live.

MATH . . . LEARNING WHAT "X" EQUALS

DWENGER MATH DEPARTMENT IS THE FINEST

Mixed in among the seeming jumble of x , π , right angles and differentiable equations, is the subject of mathematics. Although all these symbols might be a little formidable at first, it is necessary to realize that math isn't only these things. It is actually the science that deals with manipulating these numbers and functions to solve everyday problems. That is one thing that seems to get lost in the confusion of theorems, word problems, and empty sets. Everything that is taught in mathematics is either background for other problems or actual solutions for questions one may encounter. Next time you have sixty feet of fencing and want to fence your yard into two sections, you will probably think back to your algebra. Even if one is figuring the time needed to travel to Los Angeles at sixty miles per hour, all the formulas and theorems come back to mind.

Mr. Harless confidently explains to these Algebra II & Trig students that SOHCAHTOA is the secret to trigonometry. Left to right: Chris Griffith, Pete Baltes, Mr. Harless and Mike Scudder.

For a small price, Mrs. Becker has shown Jeff Woenker the secret of Algebra. Jeff says he is about ready to start complaining.

Poor Mrs. Goehring is given the task of teaching Mollie Yarnelle and Kristina Russell Geometry. Both Mollie and Kristina look more than puzzled.

Dave Hess asks for extra help while Dean Garwood tries to fall off his seat. Is this a math class? Well then maybe Mr. Herber can figure out the exact angle Dean is falling. That might be interesting Nice watch, Mr. Meyer. Why are you always looking at it? Are you anxious for class to be over too?

Angie Mattes looks like she is daydreaming. If Jennifer Schilo could take her eyes away from the teacher, maybe she would be interested in finding out what Angie is dreaming about or should I say who?

POSTERS, PAINTS, AND COLORED PENCILS

ART — A CREATIVE DEPARTMENT

Posters, paints, colored pencils, and masterpieces all belong to the world of art. Filling all the bulletin boards and the front showcase are usually specimens of what the art students can do. All seniors are featured at the end of the year, with each student filling the entire showcase with personal media.

Most assemblies are graced also by large posters made by the lovers of art. Closed away in their room filled with art paraphernalia, every day new works are created. One can observe past masterpieces by entering the art room.

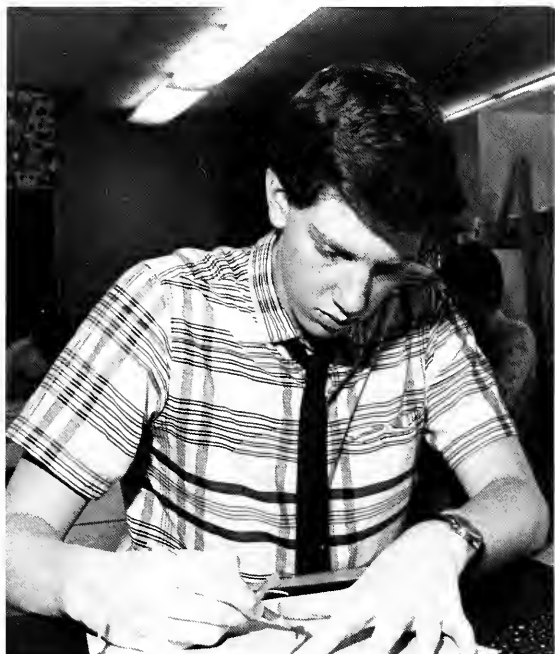

The front wall is literally plastered with them. But something very intriguing to watch is the actual creation of a picture. Periodically one senior art major's work is showcased near the front office. After four years of creativity they should have enough to fill a showcase. So next time you pass that area — look! If you take the time to do so, you will be in awe of the magnificent talent of these future Da Vinci's.

DELICIOUS AROMAS CAUSE ENVY MANY HOURS OF FUN IN HOME ECONOMICS

Approximately once a week, delicious aromas come out of a certain upstairs room. Tantalizing, mouthwatering, and sometimes overwhelming smells are the signs of cooking. The culprit in this case is the foods class. Dishing up cookies, lasagna, and cake, they are the envy of all the other students on cooking days. Another facet of home economics that is often forgotten is sewing. Many hours of work, fun, and learning go into aprons, other clothing, and useful items. Our home economics department here at Bishop Dwenger is a one woman show. Miss Halter awakens every morning with new ideas in her mind. Her innovative plans and recipes brighten up those not-so-exciting days for her students. Her classes also supply the teams with cakes and cookies, but I haven't seen them handing cookies out to just anybody. Maybe soon this will occur, at least I hope so!

HOURS OF PRACTICE FOR EVERY PERFORMANCE

GROUPS THAT HAVE ACHIEVED SOME FAME

Brightly dressed and arranged in straight lines, the band performs at every home football game. The other section of the music department appears at every Mass. The chorus adds to the ceremony by singing and playing. But they do so much more than the rest of the school ever knows about. Concerts and competitions are other things that the band and choirs specialize in. After hours of practicing in and after school, an award or two is always welcome. Amazing to all is the way bands can line up ... in figures that really resemble things. The chorus, also has achieved a certain fame. Directed by Miss Monnier, the choir at Bishop Dwenger has been asked to perform at several occasions. They were joined this year by the Gold Company, a group of singing and dancing performers. So, putting all these groups together, the Bishop Dwenger music department is formed. All of them are talented, and all of them are very photogenic.

SPORTS

FOOTBALL REACHES SEMI-STATE

Once again the Dwenger football team provided lots of entertainment, along with a fine record (11-2). The Saints started out the season by winning their first seven games of the year, highlighted by tough close games with traditional rivals Bishop Luers and Snider. The regular season came down to the last game against North Side for the city championship and the Saints, while playing gallantly, came up short against a fine undefeated Redskin team.

The State Tournament provided students and adults with many thrills. The Saints won the sectional with wins over Concordia, Tippecanoe Valley, and Carroll. Two of these schools were being played for the first time in the school's history. The regional was another exciting win for the Saints over a gutsy Northwood team who were state runners-up the preceding year. It all came down to the Semi-State game against Elwood for the honor of going to the Dome. Due to a snow storm during the day, the field had to be plowed before it could be played upon. The game was hard-fought the entire way, highlighted by a dramatic 80-yard touchdown by Mike Carcione, but the Saints came up 6 points short in the waning seconds of the ball game.

The season was made interesting by a newly designed passing game that was centered around the All-State arm of QB Steve Smeltzley. Steve passed for over 2000 yards and 26 touchdowns throughout the season, both of which easily broke school records. On the receiving end of many of Steve's passes was Tim Pelkington, also an All-State performer (38 rec. & 15 TD), Chris Nelson (44 rec. & 13 TD), and Mike Carcione (8 TD). The Dwenger line was anchored by All-State center Steve Fiacable and All-SAC Jason Garrett. Besides a 2000 yard passer, the Dwenger team also boasted a 1000 yard rusher in Dave Ludwig who set career records for yards (2853) and attempts (538).

In addition to the team honors of sectional and regional champions, many players were singled out for their contributions. Steve Fiacable, Tim Pelkington, and Steve Smeltzley were named to all 3 All-State teams as well as first team All-SAC along with Jason Garrett, Chris Nelson and Mat Peters.

Dave Ludwig was honored by being named to the first Hall of Fame team. Matt Hatfield, Rob Minitti, and Dave Ludwig were also First team All-State Academic Team honors were as follows: MVP — Steve Smeltzley, MV Offensive Lineman — Tim Pelkington, MV Offensive Back — Chris Nelson, MV Defensive Lineman — Steve Fiacable, MV Defensive Back — Scott Andrews. Also Steve Fiacable and Tim Pelkington were named to represent the North Squad in the annual North-South All Star game.

8-0: You can't get much better than that. Coach Girgash led the Reserve Saints to an undefeated season again. Anytime we can beat the powerful SAC school makes for an exciting season. Victories were achieved over rivals such as Snider, Northside and Bishop Luers. Many of the Reserve team dressed for the Varsity games as well. With over 100 guys out for football and no cuts, it makes for quite a roster. Reserve games were played on Monday nights after school. With an 8-0 undefeated season only the best will be expected of the Saints next season. SAC reserve champs will make for an excellent varsity next season. Coaches Girgash and Bartkiewicz are to be congratulated on their fine jobs of leading these young men on to excellence.

"Who Dat!" was the Freshmen Spirit of the '87-'88 year. We don't know what it means, but the team does, just like all the football tradition at Bishop Dwenger High School. Along with learning the traditions of Dwenger Football the team became strong and looks to be another great B.D. team. The Freshmen were once again led by the veteran Coach Koester. Coach Koester was assisted this year by graduate and former B.D. Football player Brian Hartzog. With the two coach's help and support the players finished the season with a 5-2 record and were co-champs of the SAC. Coach Koester says that this Bishop Dwenger Football Team has the spirit and the determination to be one of the best at Bishop Dwenger.

BOY'S TENNIS TEAM IS 14-1 IN SAC

The 1988 tennis team saw the Saints welcome new head coach Ed Yoder. Mr. Yoder is a Graduate from Purdue and teaches Honors and AP Chemistry at Bishop Dwenger. With help from the Seniors, Mr. Yoder learned the ropes of being a 12-3 record and was placed on the team for the third straight year. Junior Matt Slaters' 14-1 record was enough to place him on the team as he played number two singles. The number 1 doubles team of John Tholen and Dave Lion (13-2)

IT'S A SECTIONAL FOR GIRL'S GOLF

Girl's golf once again had a successful year. For the second time in four years the girls returned to the State Finals. The varsity consisted of three seniors and

CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS GO THE DISTANCE

The boy's Cross Country team had a great season, finishing 3rd in the SAC. They were led by Captain and MVP Pat McManus. Both he and Josh Shenk were members of the ALL-SAC team. Josh was also the Most Improved. Eric Garcia was the Outstanding Freshman and Matt Lauer received the mental attitude award. Rounding out the Varsity team was freshman Jason Hicks.

The Girl's Cross Country team had a very successful season. They were led by Co-Captains, Senior Susan Delaney and Junior Jennifer Delaney. Tammy Patterson was MVP and also a member of the ALL-SAC team. Sarah Schoenle was ALL-SAC for her third year. Freshman Jennifer Ryan was the Most Improved. Also running for the Saints were Colleen Garcia, Heather Mock, and Kathy Wall. Although they were few in number, the Lady Saints finished their season strongly.

Senior Pat McManus led the way for the boys team. Pat was the captain and recieved ALL-SAC honors.

VOLLEYBALL POSTS WINNING SEASON

Bishop Dwenger has always been a powerhouse in Girl's Volleyball and this past season proved to be no exception. Coach Kay Freiburger had 7 returning letterman including 6 seniors and 1 junior. Competing in a long season which begins in August before school is in session, the team did very well with a winning record. The Saints participated in many invitations, among them The Prairie Heights Invitational, The Concordia Invitational, and the Wayne Invitational. The girls placed in all of the tourneys. Awards received this year included:

Debets was named by the coaches as the Best Server. The staff was well pleased with the performance of the team. When the city coaches get together after the season to select the ALL SAC squad, Kim Coughlin and Amy Hogan were named to the 1st team and Anne Davis was listed on the 2nd team. This is the second year in a row that Kim Coughlin was named to the ALL SAC team and she will be pictured on the wall, an honor not given to many of our athletes. As usual, Volleyball brought out the fan in the truest sense of the word.

Junior, Amy Hogan, uses her special brand of "hip motion" as she serves to the opponent. Amy was named to the All SAC team.

RESERVE AND FRESHMAN TEAMS ARE STRONG

This year's reserve volleyball team had an exceptional year with an undefeated season, but with two losses in the reserve tournament. Our overall record was 18-2. We had a lot of team leadership with Julie Thompson and Gail Bowlin as the captains. Helping along with the ups and downs of the games was coach Lori Heckber. Our team consisted of 12 well-rounded players, 6 of which are juniors, Mollie Yarnell, Julie Thompson, Gail Bowlin, Janis Drerup, Brooke Neuhaus, and Marcy Thompson, Jenny McMahon, Jenny Freiburger, Beth Honekamp, An-

GYMNASTICS TEAM HAS BRIGHT SEASON

It was another great season for the Gymnastics Team. Under the coaching of Rosemarie Nix and Jamie King, the Saints finished in the SAC with a team record of 7 wins and 5 losses. Michelle Wall was named to the All SAC team with Katy Wall and Carlene Hoot being named to the Honorable except Lee Durant and Jenny Abella. Neither competed in the All Around. Carlene Hoot had her best season on the balance beam, which Michelle Wall did a wonderful job on the floor exercises. Jodi Herrberg and Katy Wall were part of the varsity team for most of the season and they are just freshman.

WRESTLING TAKES SECTIONAL

The 1987-88 wrestling season contained many promising but also some disheartening experiences for Bishop Dwenger High School. The squad was made up mostly of underclassmen with only four seniors on the roster. (Matt Hullinger, Rob Minniti, Matt Knight and Brian came back in mid-season to finish the year with a winning record and a sectional championship. The Saints also placed three wrestlers in the state tournament this year ... Andy Noll at 103, Matt Hullinger at 112 and Rob Minniti as an alternate at 145. Congratulations B.D.

BOY'S BASKETBALL GOES TO SEMI-STATE

As the Basketball season came to an end, the Bishop Dwenger Saints had accomplished what man thought was impossible. Never before in the history of Bishop Dwenger High School had the boy's Basketball team won a Sectional, no less a Regional. Led by Coach Mark Johnson the Saints steadily improved with each game as the state playoffs approached. It was mostly a senior squad who had played together gressed with the pep reaching new heights. John Carretta made the ALL SAC team for the second year and Pat Murphy for the first year. Bishop Dwenger was the only school in the area to have both it's football and basketball teams go to the semi state. That says something about our athletes as well as the coaching staff. Next year looks very bright for the Saints as we will have many returning juniors who played at the Seniors were Randy Lewandowski, John Carretta, Pat Murphy, Steve Fiacable, Dave Westropp, Tim Pelkington, Jeff Rolfese and of course the ultimate in managers, Jason Mozzone. Varsity as well as at the reserve level. The whole Dwenger family is very proud of the Basketball team.

Eric Garcia with his large saxophone takes a breather. It must take a lot of wind to get music out of that thing, eh?

The Dwenger Band: One of the key supporters for the football and basketball seasons is the spunky Dwenger band. The band is full of excitement with its musical energy. Everyone in the band works together to show different talent that many members have. Early in the summer we march for parades including the Three Rivers Festival. Toward the middle of the summer everyone goes off to camp . . . band camp, that wonderful, crazy place where we learn different marching routines and formations . . . and a lot of other things we might not have to learn. We perform in several competitions and memorize a few formations. We love performing in several half-times of football games. We have improved so much over the years that the crowd has been so supportive. Every year we compete in a lot of events and have won many honors. You are really missing a lot of fun if you are not in the band!

1988 brought something new and exciting to Bishop Dwenger — The Gold Company! Directed by Amy Monnier, the singers, dancers, crew, and their very own band made up this rowdy group. The Gold Company performed at various parties, meetings and concerts throughout the year. Christmas time was their busiest season and the group also traveled to Union Station in Indianapolis in December to perform their Christmas show.

Perhaps the most important part of being a member of the Gold Company was the fun times they shared. Everyone performed with enthusiasm, especially when singing and dancing to "Who Put the Bump?". Being in this group meant a lot of time and effort, but everyone was sad to see the year end. So hats off to Miss Monnier and the entire Gold Company for a job well done!!!!

Our year started with a lot of returning positions on the squad. We thought it would be a successful year. Working hard through June, July, and August proved our theory. Hard work pays off! Camp was a great success. Bishop Dwinger Pom-Pon squad was well represented there. We learned many new things but being together and our friendship was the real reason we left camp taking with us all of the trophies and awards given there. We didn't let up. We supported the football team and the basketball team all the way! The year is finally at an end but we left behind a great reputation to live up to in the years to come. P.S. ORGANIZATIONS

After school there is always something to do even if you are not interested in sports. Clubs range from academic interests to service organizations to just plain fun. The language clubs merged into the international club for this school year and the idea was very successful. They sponsored a city wide cookout for exchange students from all over Allen County. The NHS has more members than ever before. The Yacht Club took its many trips to such places as Chicago and Cedar Point. The newly formed Pep Club was a success. Mr. Kedra took over the Right to Life group. Chairs were the name of the game for the Key Club. The Academic Team did great competing all over the state of Indiana. And as always the Student Council were ultra busy.

ISN'T THAT SPECIAL

All days are not equal in high school. Every now and again something out of the ordinary happens. This year was no different. It was the 25th anniversary year of the opening of Bishop Dwenger and many extra events were part of our lives. Everything was done with a little more flair than usual. On these two pages some special things are recorded. There were many more to remember. We had ducks in the courtyard by the family. Eighth graders from our feeder schools spent an enjoyable day at B.D. in the fall. There were many 25th celebrations ranging from masses to alumni basketball games. Homecoming was very festive with grads from all the classes coming back. All in all it was a very special year.

WARREN Need we say more.

Tuffy looks the same even after 25 years. It is a happy birthday cake for BDHS.

This is a sample of the 8th graders who came to Bishop Dwenger for a day to test the waters and find out more about our school.

These two are sky divers and they arrived with the game ball at the Homecoming game. It was a very exciting moment.

Another exciting moment when Jason Mozzone hugged Mrs. Cornell. It all had to do with the Walk A Thon.

These are the exchange students from all over Allen County that the International had a party for in the fall. Many countries are represented.

Mr. Gaughan and Mr. Bawman, Superintendent of Schools enjoy a hamburger at the courtyard cookout during Homecoming week.

Mrs. Carroll and some of her students put on an English demonstration for the 8th graders.

Up, Up, and Away. The balloon gets ready to take off.

Fr. Rick Stieglitz takes Amy Schenkel and Julie Glassley up in his hot air balloon as Amy's prize in the Walk A Thon.

Mr. Ray eats his burger and then plans to dive into the chips

ASSEMBLIES

John Carretta in his principal pose. How impressive.

Principal for the day, Pep Sessions, All star basketball games, Awards and recognitions; all of these fall under the banner of assemblies. With both boys football and basketball going to the semi state, we had plenty of pep sessions. The cheerleaders did an excellent job in preparing these wild events. At Saints Alive, John Carretta's parents purchased the Principal for the Day item and John ruled supreme for a day in May. John had an assembly with a basketball game of seniors and a quick dance before retiring to a cookout in the courtyard. Gathering in the gym together as a school is one of the better aspects of high school.

Mrs. Patsy Duma brings many bizarre people into school.

The cheerleaders give John Carretta a rousing welcome. He looks back to see if anyone notices.

If anyone wasn't at this trashbag fashion show, they would probably be quite amazed at this picture.

Coach Johnson gives another rousing speech before the Dwenger-Concord game. Although we didn't win, everyone was so excited that we came awfully close.

Jenny Abella, Diana McMillen, Noelle Reith, and Laura Bergoff perform at another basketball pep session.

This group is lookin' like the dolls they are. They are sitting in front of the music of Hatfield and Ludwig

SAINTS STRIDE

Sheila James and Michelle Londt have Nick Gehl in a straight jacket. Nick seems to enjoy having his hands tied behind his back.

No rain this year. Darker T Shirts. Warmer weather. Already things were looking up. For the third year in a row the students participated in a major fund raiser of their own, namely a Walk A Thon named "Saints Stride". Each student was asked to get pledges based on the distance walked. Not all did what was expected of them but most took part in some degree. We walked from the Johnny Appleseed Park to the Cass Street Train Station and back again for a distance of about 12K. Everyone was finished by about 11:30 am and we retired for the day. We all received a T-Shirt to wear in a one size fits all look. Orange juice was provided along the way and everyone got a FREE lunch at the conclusion. Such a Deal.

Big time prizes were awarded to the top money makers in each class. Tonya Thomas won a ticket to Florida for topping the Senior class. Junior Chris Bock took home enough cash to pay for Rock Concert Tickets for himself and 5 of his friends. Amy Schenkel and Phil Poinsett front the 9th and 10th grades won private phone service for a year for their efforts. Winning homerooms did some heavy duty eating to be rewarded and Mr. Johnson will drive a rented Caddie for the summer because he made his homeroom bring in the most money. Raising money is hard work but the Saints came through for a total of $20,200.00 and earned a free day added to Thanksgiving. Good work.

After walking the crowd got ugly if the food wasn't ready. Andy Noll and one of his wrestling teammates couldn't get to the food fast enough.

We're having some fun now. Dave Burgess, Jeff Hamrick, Amy Helmer, Ryan Partaker, Amy Minick and Nik Brost pose for the photographer who was none other than Mr. J.F. Tone.

Freshman friends, Phil Pointsatte, Shannon Mullarkey, Gina Amick and Karen Pryzbyla.

RECOGNITION

At Bishop Dwenger it is a tradition to recognize anyone who excels at their favorite pastime or at their studies. Whether it is football, gymnastics, art, or math, the person is congratulated and given encouragement to continue. Especially senior year, when the top ten in the graduating class is announced. This year's valedictorian is Joseph Romie. Besides numerous awards received all through his high school career, he has also been active as National Honor Society copresident and the yearbook coeditor. The Salutatorian is Michelle Hartman. She has also received many awards and has been very involved at Dwenger for the last four years. The one main event at which all who excel at their studies are congratulated is the annual Dwenger Scholar Night. This is when anyone who has upheld an excellent grade average is awarded. But besides this, all through the year people are given awards and honors for their accomplishments. Some of them are never announced at Dwenger, but they are important just the same. These people are special and deserve to be praised whether the award is in sports, science, or sewing.

Joe Romie, one of the coeditors this year, asks what he should do with the freshmen.

Putting in long hours week after week trapped in Room 110 with Mrs. Cornell was the Aureate staff. Every year several students, with Mrs. Cornell's help, or maybe Mrs. Cornell with the students' help, publish that year's yearbook. Although some seem to think that all they do is look at all the neat pictures of their friends, the yearbook staff actually spends a lot of their time drawing pages, cutting pictures down to size, and writing long descriptions of the year, such as this one. At the beginning of the year, it appears to be an easygoing-type group. But as the school year wanes and deadlines approach, Mrs. Cornell and the editors get a little bit irritable. Page after page gets finished, and we all get a little more relaxed. This year we had coeditors Joe Romie and Sarah Couch in charge. The other section editors were: Chrissie Koher, mugs; Laura Usher, Academics; Kathy Romie, Activities; and Sarah Couch, Sports. Mrs. Cornell, of course, was in control of the gun to keep the staff in order. Besides these editors, there were also several underclassmen working on the yearbook. An overabundance of freshmen seems to be a good sign for the future. But Mrs. Cornell will always get nervous before the deadlines.

John Otto displays his newly acquired awards at the yearbook luncheon.

Joe Romie and Sarah Couch, the editors, pose on someone's car. Is it just anybody's, or is it Sarah's?

Laura Usher, Mindy Nguyen, Craig James and Sheila James work studiously or hide, as the case may be.

The Aureate Staff: front row: Craig James, Jennifer Schilo, Mindy Nguyen, Amy Vorndran, Kathy Romie, Greg Waning

NEWSPAPER

John Tholen and Alexandra Brell "tie a yellow ribbon around the old oak tree".

The Golden Trumpet is Bishop Dwenger's school newspaper. In it, students are brought up-to-date on the events that involve the entire student body. This year, the Golden Trumpet has improved their style. The paper is now done on computer, which gives the layout a modern look. All the editors, reporters, and photographers worked very hard to bring to the students the happenings around Bishop Dwenger. The editor-in-chief, Alexandra Brell, and the advisor, Mrs. Debbie Kennel-Lauer, also did an excellent job.

News Editor, Amy Varndran, you're on Candid Camera!

The Golden Trumpet staff: Mrs. Lauer, Colleen VanWey, Amy Varndran, Leah Mockenhaupt, Jamie Parrot, Alexandra Brell, John Tholen, and John Otto.

SAINTS ALIVE

Mrs. Edie Carroll looks pleased after taking care of all of the students who worked at Saints Alive. She quite a job placing everyone in their jobs.

It was a great night for all of those participating at Saints Alive. The jobs are greatly appreciated.

"Enchantment Under The Sea" was the theme of the 1988 version of Saints Alive. The event took place on March 11, 1988 in the Bishop Dwenger Gym. However, you would not have guessed that it was a gym after the parent committee finished decorating. Each year a transformation takes place. From gym to sea world. Money was raised and all of those involved had a spectacular evening. Over 200 students participated by donating their time at various jobs from parking cars, to cleaning off dinner tables; from spot lighting items up for bid, to taking pictures; from checking coats, to helping people to their seats; from washing dishes to emptying trash; from soup to nuts the Dwenger students covered many a duty. 300 couples attended the auction and over $200,000.00 was raised. Saints Alive is the biggest event of it's kind in Fort Wayne. It most certainly was "Enchantment Under The Sea."

Lookin like Sailors!! Patrick Brown and Larry Kleber.

Greeters at the front door include Dave Ludwig, Marilyn Ryan, Amy Richardson, and Casey O'Boyle.

Senior, Greg Case, dressed like a sailor, worked for the third year at Saints Alive. All of the costumes are provided by a parent committee. Many are made just for the event.

Shannon Henery and Heidi Wilhelm, both Seniors, pose with some of the merchandise that will be bid upon later in the evening. They are dressed as some kind of Neptune beauty. Not only is it a night for the adults to have fun, but many of the students who work have a great time too.

Jenny Christie, Senior, poses with the camera in the lobby where she helps to direct people to their seats. John Otto and Michael Scudder took the pictures for the yearbook.

Everybody needs kitchen help. Here's ours. Geoff Markiton, Steve Siman, Brian Loney, Chris Griffith and David Dimberio.
